BRI and Campden Merge

BRI and Campden (CCFRA) signed a Merger Deed on the 21st of August. The merger was then completed on the 26th of August at Brewers' Hall when a General Meeting of BRI Members gave their approval to changes in BRI's Memorandum and Articles and to the creation of Campden BRI.

BRI's Chairman, David Hardie stated that 'Over the last seven years BRI has very successfully built on its scientific base to become the foremost provider of scientific support and technical services to the brewing industry worldwide, especially in the key area of food safety. BRI's merger with Campden represents an exciting major strategic development for BRI and its Members with the establishment of a unique scientific and technical resource which will provide the industry with expertise and services across a more comprehensive range of industrially important disciplines.'

Martin Thomas, Chairman of BRI's Supervisory Board of Representatives congratulated David Hardie and Mark Kierstan, BRI's Chief Executive, on the successful completion of the complex merger. In addition he expressed thanks, on behalf of BRI's Membership, to David Hardie who is retiring from the Chairmanship of the BRI Board, for his leadership of BRI over the last seven years.
